Also, one transmitting two communicationsone from E. P. D. Myers and the other from Chas. F. Thomas, Esq. -in relation to a new invention for tapping the water mains; referred.

The Chair also laid before the board a communication from the Sons of Malta, inviting the members of the board to participate in a grand tournament, to be given by them at Arlington Springs, on Thursday next; which was unanimously accepted.

The petitions of G. W. Stewart, for continuing a sewer from G street north to I st. north; of N. B. Larner and others, asking for a water main to be laid in I street, between Ninth and Tenth streets west; of C. P. Wannall and others, asking for the opening of Ninth street west, from Rhode Island avenue to Boundary street; of James Spalding, for remission of a fine; and of John P. Ingle, for a water main to be laid on the east side of New Jersey avenue, from B st. south to C st. south, were received and duly referred BILLS REPORTED AND PASSED.

A bill provid ng for the purchase of a town clock and fire alarm bell, to be placed on the top of the proposed new Central guard-house; a bill for relief of the Anacostia fire company; a bill for relief of Geo. H. B. White; a bill to lay water main on the north side of Pennsylvania avenue from Third street west to Fifteenth street west, and from Seventeenth street west to Twenty-third west; a bill to lay a water main on Sixth street west from north D street to north G street; a bill to lay a water main on the east side of New Jersey avenue, from B street south to C street south; a bill to lay the water main along Twentieth street west, from Pennsylvania avenue to G street north: a bill to lay the water main on I street from Ninth to Tenth street west; a bill authorizing the curbstone to be set and the foot parement laid on Tenth street west, between N and O streets north. MISCELLANEOUS.

On motion of Mr. McNerhany, the rejected petition of W. P. Brown was taken from the files and recommitted to the claims committee. Mr. Moore reported a bill from the lower board anthorizing an appropriation to remove from streets and avenues all loose cobble stones; lost on third reading. On motion of Mr. Dunnington, the police committee was discharged from further consideration of the bill to repeal the fourth section of the act rical exhibitions On motion of Mr. McNerhany, the claims committee was discharged from further consideration of the petition of Wm. Acken, and the same was referred to the improvements committee.

Mr. Price introduced a resolution requesting the Mayor to communicate with the Secretary of War in relation to the removal of certain obstructions, such as condemned blocks of marble, etc., from the streets on Capitol Hill; passed. Mr. Pearson introduced a resolution requesting the City Surveyor to examine and report the probable cost of grading and graveling C street south, between Four-and-a-half and Third streets west; passed. Mr. Brown introduced a resolution to take the papers in the case of the claim of J. F. Divine and Mrs. George H. Jones from the table and refer them to the claims committee; passed. Mr. Moore introduced a bill to improve H street north, from Tenth to Thirteenth streets west; re-

BILLS FROM THE LOWER BOARD. Several bells were received and duly referred one to improve M street north at its intersection with Boundary street, and Boundary street to Eighth street east, in front of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum. This bill had passed the Board of Aldermen; and the Common Council with an amendment, which said amendment the Board of Aldermen had non-concurred in, and had been returned to the Common Council, who had insisted on their amendment; and on motion, the Board now concurred in the said amendment, and the bill was passed. Mr. Magruder int oduced a resolution requesting the Mayor to ascertain the probable cost of repairing the roof of the west wing of the City Hall, and fitting up certain rooms therein, which was passed.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION. Mr. Pearson stated that he found that Mr. Jas F. Divine, a Commissioner in the Northern Market, had taken as a personal thing what he had said in his minority report of the committee to investigate charges against the official conduct of the officers of said market. The speaker disclaimed any intention to impugn or question Mr. Divine's personal conduct in relation to that matter. What he had said and done had been in relation to his official action, and had no personal reference whatever. Mr. Brown desired to know if there had been any charge against Mr. Divine. Mr. Pearson said: "No, sir, no personal charge; it was only against his action as a Commissioner of the Market."

Messrs. Moore and McNerhany, as members of the special committee referred to, stated that Mr. Divine had not testified in his own defence before the committee; he had been present at its sitting, and was questioned in reference to what disposition had been made of certain funds. Mr. Pearson said he did not desire to be misunderstood; he had questioned Mr. Divine's conduct as Commissioner, in connection with the other officers of the market, but he disclaimed any separate or personal action or expression against him. On motion, the Board adjourned. The Common Council proceedings are unavoidably crowded out to-day.

AN IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT .- Almost any hour of the day a group of people may be seen inspecting the very ingenious and perfect manuer in which the basement (side and front) of the new Perry Building is lighted, without admitting water or dust. This is effected by an invention for the first time introduced in this city, viz: Hyatt's Protected Lead Band Illuminating Tiles, manufactured by Messrs. Hyatt & Brown, 5 Worth street, New York. It consists of small balls of glass set in lead, and the lead and glass driven into sockets in plates of cast iron so as to be perfectly water-tight. Each glass ball or lens is protected from fracture by knobs of iron cast on the plate, and we understand will bear almost any weight, even that of a loaded team On descending to the basement, the visitor is struck by the immense flood of light admitted by this method. Here was a basement about 25 feet outside of the building extending along the front and one whole side of the building, so that there is absolutely more room in the basement outside than inside the building, covered with arched brick work resting on iron beams, and as light as day. We advise our readers to examine it.

PREMIUMS TO A WASHINGTONIAN .- The fine display of agricultural implements made by Mr. J. P. Bartholow of this city, to the Rockville fair attract d great attention, and elicited a merited testimonial. He has been presented with a handsomely-chased silver cup by the farmers of Mont-gomery county, with the following inscription: To J. P. Bartholow, from the farmers of Montgomery county, Md. A slight token of their appreciation of his labors in introducing, in this section of the country, many new and important agricultural improvements.

Mr. B. also received the first premium of $10 for the Buckeye Reaper and Mower, $3 as the first premium for the best straw-cutter, $2 as the first premium for a cultivator, $5 as the first premium for a mower, and $10 for the largest display of agricultural implements on the ground

BLITZ AND THE ORPHANS .- Blitz, the great magician, with his usual good nature, extends a general invitation, free of expense, to all the Orphan Asylums and the Columbia Deaf and Dumb Institute to visit his exhibitions on Wednesday or Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock, when he has his annual frolic with the children. Blitz has also placed at the book and drug stores tickets for sale. one-half the proceeds of which will be for any orphan asylum in the city the buyer may designate. Blitz's entertainments are of the very first class-mysterious, amusing, diversified and laugh

Pic-Nic To-Morrow - The Ryland Chapel Sunday School propose to give a grand pic-nic to-morrow, at Columbia Springs. Plenty of re-freshments will be at hand, and no doubt a very picasant time will be realized.

RECEPTION OF THE AMERICA COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA -From an early hour yesterday afternoon until long after dark, the Avenue was enlivened by the presence of an unusually large and gay throng of persons of both sexes, attracted thither by the announcement that during the evening the America fire company of Philadelphia. would arrive in this city, bringing with them their splendid steam engine, and be escorted from the depot by the different fire companies of our At 4 o'clock, the Union fire company, headed by a band of music marched down the avenue as far as Twelfth street, where they halted in order to take their place in the line of escort. Shortly after, the Vigilant company of Georgetown, and the Western Hose of this city, arrived in company with some of the members of the Friendship of Alexandria, from that city. At 5 o'clock, the companies formed and took up their line of march for the depot. On the arrival of the cars containing the America, they were welcomed by Mr. Garey, President of the Franklin company. in brief and handsome terms, to which the President of the America company responded happily The assembled companies then formed in line and marched from the depot to the north side of the Capitol, passing the Columbia Engine house, the bell of which was rung in honor of the occa-sion, and the members of which immediately joined the already large procession, which wended its way up Pennsylvania avenue (other companies falling in on the way) to Third street, and through Third street to Massachusetts avenue to the hall of the Metropolitan Company, where they partook of refreshments which had been provided in pro-fusion; after which they continued the march down Massachusetts avenue to Seventh street, down Seventh street to Pennsylvania avenue, passing the Perseverance Engine-house, which handsomely decorated, and as they passed the effect of the whole was hightened by fire works, which were shot off from the Perseverance Enginehouse roof and upper windows. The place was also handsomely illuminated, and the trees in front of the hall filled with appropriate transpa-rencies. The procession continued up Pennsylva-nia avenue to the Franklin Engine-house, when the beautiful steam fire-engine was left in charge, and the visitors escorted to Maher's hotel, their headquarters during their contemplated stay here. As the procession reached the corner of Eleventh street and Pennsylvania avenue it halted in front of Blanchard & Mohun's bookstore, when a beautiful wreath of a national device was presented to the visiting company by E. F. Alexander, Esq., which was received with appropriate remarks by their president, Gen. W. F. Small. The restaurant of Richard Adams, on the avenue, near Eleventh street, was illuminated and appropriately decorated with a device representing a fireman as cending a ladder, trumpet in hand and in full fireman's uniform. In front was a transparency, under an illuminated tri-colored arch, bearing the device, "Welcome America;" and the illu mination was rendered quite striking by the variously colored lanterns in which the lights were enveloped.

After partaking of a munificent entertainment at their hotel, the visitors proceeded in a body, by invitation, to the Assembly Rooms to attend the ball of the Jackson Club, where they passed a pleasant hour or two and then proceeded to their warters for the night.

The following companies were in the line: The Franklin, numbering 75; the Columbia, numbering 65; the Union, 33; the Western Hose, 28; the Metropolitan Hook and Ladder, 25; The Vigilant, of Georgetown, 25; the Friendship, of Alexandria, with a delegation of 17 members; and also a large delegation of the members of the Perseverance Company. The visitors number 35 equipped members, with a number who are not in uniform Gen Wm. F. Small is their President, and Major C. M. Berry, marshal; and they are accompanied by Prof Beck's celebrated brass band, numbering 6 performers, who do up the musical portion of the programme in fine style.

Their steam fire engine is one of a smaller class. fitted to be drawn by hand in an emergency. It is from the manufactory of Messrs. Reaney, Neafle & Co., of the Penn Works, Philadelphia, and weighs less than 4,000 pounds. It has never been fully tested, but at a late trial, with an 1%-inch nozzle, it threw to a perpendicular height of 278 feet, drawing its own water. To-day, the visitors were escorted over the city by their entertainers, stopping briefly at all the principal public buildings, and was received by the President at the Executive Mansion, at 12 m. THE VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT.

The company, at noon, reached the Executive Mansion, and, marching in, formed in hollow square, facing inwards, in the East Room. The President soon appeared, accompanied by the Commissioner of Public Buildings, and Messrs. Magill and Meleod; and among the crowd present we noticed the acting Secretary of War-Col Wm. R. Drinkard. The company were introduced to Mr. Buchanan by the chief marshal, Mr. W. J. Garey, who introduced the visitors in a few very pertinent remarks. The President then responded, saying that it was with great pleasure that he received them at the White House; paid a high compliment to firemen in general, and especially to those of Washington, remarking, among other things, that he never knew a better class of people than the resident population of Washington Gen'l. Small replied on the part of the "Amer-

The President then shook the hand of each one of them, and after giving nine hearty cheers for the President, they retired. They then proceeded to the residence of Col. Florence.

The companies then formed in line and marched to Georgetown, where they were handsomely entertained at Forrest Hall, by the members of the Vigilant company, of that place. MARRIED IN HASTE.-This morning, a little before noon, a young man and woman inquired their way to the office of Justice Donn, where they were allowed the privilege of his conferenceroom, and remained to await the arrival of Rev. W. L. Childs, of St. Alban's Church, for whom they sent. Upon the arrival of that clergyman, he proceeded to unite the young couple in the bands of holy wedlock, which was done in the presence of a wondering company. The name of the groom is Travers Seegar and the bride Susan Woodward, both of Stafford county, Va. Apparently, the groom is about twenty-one and the bride fifteen. After the ceremony, the happy pair departed, the bride to a more convenient sitting-room and the groom, as we understand, to lay in a supply of groceries. A long and happy life to Police Matters .- Before Justice Clark .- John Colbert was brought up on a charge of stealing a eap from David Fisher. The charge turned out to have no deeper foundation than the fact that Colbert had committed a piece of impudence by taking the cap in fun. So the case was dismissed. James Fox, with a long and unpronounceable alias, was charged with stealing a coat from Mr. James Bleigh. In default of $266 worth of bail required by the magistrate for his appearance at Court, he was committed to jail.

Mrs. Ragan was accused of using profane and outrageous language. She was fined $1.94:

Messrs. Dodson and Walker, hackmen, were charged with obstructing the footway of the street by allowing their hackney carriages to stand thereon. They were duly fined.

THE GRAND TOURNAMENT AT ARLINGTON .- The Crusaders' Lodge, No. 1, of the Sons of Malta, of Washington, in connection with the Grand Lodges of New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia, intend to hold a grand tournament and pie nic at Arlington Spring on Thursday next, the 15th inst. This will no doubt be one of the grandest and most numerously attended affairs of the kind that has ever taken place in this part of the country, and the managers assure the public that an ample police force will be detailed for the maintenance of order and decorum. As an instance of the magnitude and completeness of the general arrangements it is stated that sub-stantial seats will be erected for the accommodation of ten thousand ladies. Supplyisions .- The City Surveyor and his assistant have been engaged lately with the work of subdividing certain squares and lots, before subdivided, but in such a manner that now as the progress of improvement brings those squares and lots into the market as available for building sites, the former subdivisions prove to be disadvantageous. In years past the subdivisions were frequently made to favor the erection of small tenements. The demand for first class houses has greatly increased within the past ten years, and the owners of real estate find it profitable to change the subdivision of their property into lots suitable for such improvements. A number of fine sites have been thus arranged by the present Surveyor.

MR. EDITOR: Is there any law against carrying guns on Sunday? If so, the police might reap a rich harvest every Sunday by arresting boys and young men who go out Seventh street and annoy the people in the country by shooting on and about their premises. There is a vast deal of Sunday doings on Seventh street from the beginning of the slashes up to the Park Hotel that needs the presence of the police. Where are they? There never was a more salutary law than that imposing a fine for carrying concealed weapons; and now let us put a stop to this going openly armed on Sunday. There is no half way to order. . COUNTRY RESIDENT.

ARRIVED .- The steamer Mount Vernon arrived at the western wharves this morning about nine o'clock, bringing a very heavy cargo of miscellaneous freight-a great increase over that of her first trip—and seventeen passengers. The following is the list: J. N. Tyrack and wife, R. Foster, L. Brown, A. Murray, J. F. Finey, J. W. Green, lady and child, H. O. Martin, J. H. Bradley, jr., R. H. Clark, Jas. G. Smith, F. J. Heiberger and two ladies, a lady.

MADAME PIERRE, (from Paris.) is informed that the job of printing executed at this Office to her order is ready for delivery, and she is requested to pay for it and take it away.

RELIGIOUS .- The spirit of revival seems to be rapidly spreading among our churches. The churches at the Navy Yard, as well as those we have already mentioned in the other parts of the city, are becoming awakened. Protracted meetings were commenced on Sunday night last at the Methodist Protestant Church, Rev. Mr. Nichols, pastor, and at the Ebenezer M. E. Church, Rev. Dr. Ryan, pastor. At the latter, after the pastor had concluded his discourse, and the usual invitation having been given, four penitents came forward, soliciting the prayers of the church. ast night fifteen persons presented themselves at

At the Methodist Protestant Church, last night, Rev. Mr. Nichols preached from the text, "And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage, and the door was shut;" Matt. 25, 10. After the sermon three persons presented them-selves at the altar, one of whom (a lady) professed conversion ere the close of the meeting. Great interest seems to be manifested at this church by the young men of the congregation, and the mem-bers are greatly encouraged with a prospect of very profitable meetings.

RAIL AND REED BIRD SHOOTING .- The sportsmen of our District have made more extensive preparation for the Rail season than for a long time past. It is reported by those who have visited the marshes, in the Potomac and Anacostia, that the birds are very plentiful, and many gunners have made large returns from single tides. The principal difficulty appears to be the obtaining of skiffs and experienced pushers to carry sportsmen through the marshes upon the tides. Those who enjoy the sport of Rail shooting, generally engage their assistants a day before if possible, so that when they get to the marsh they may not be disappointed. Many, who are more venturesome, wade the marsh, a very tiresome course to the uninitiative, and not all conducive to health; others use well trained dogs. The birds are be-ginning to be offered at the restaurants, hotels, and in the markets by the professional gunners, in large numbers; they find ready sale, being conidered a delicacy of the season. The amusing incidents connected with amateurs sporting in the marsh, as ducking, miring, &c., are as numerous as ever, but no serious accidents have yet been reported.

THE CROWNS AND WREATHS .- There is quite a rush of fair ladies to the store of R. C. Stevens, Pennsylvania avenue, near Ninth street, the attraction being the crown and magic fan provided for the fortunate one who shall be selected as the Queen of Love and Beauty at the Tournament of the Sons of Malta on the 15th instant, and the beautiful wreaths for the Maids of Honor. The crown is really superb, composed of the finest French flowers, tastefully interspersed with silver lilies of the valley. The magic fan is much admired, and especially because of the simplicity with which it is transformed from a beautiful fan to a boquet of equal beauty. The blush rose wreaths, three in number, are tastefully designed. These, too, are much admired. They were all selected by Mr. Stevens, and do much credit to his taste.

THE TREATRE.-One of the largest and most fashionable audiences that has ever graced the interior of the Washington theatre, assembled last night to witness the performance of the great international comedy of "Our American Cousin." It was truly gratifying to the friends of the Drama, as it must have been to the company to know that so many people knew of the existence of the theatre. and had actually found the way to that hospitable establishment. Without having the space to enter into any criticism of the play or its performance, we will simply say that it was most enthusiastically received by a very large and discriminating audience, and will no doubt draw overflowing houses as long as the managers may see fit to keep it upon the Washington boards. The play is to be repeated to-night, followed by the farce of the Eton Boy-Mr. Raymond as Dabiter.

THE REVIVAL .- The protracted meetings at the ethodist churches are still in progress. At the Wesley Chapel, last night, a love feast was held under the superintendence of the Rev. Dr. Morgan, Presiding Elder, and Rev. Mr. Ball. It was a very interesting occasion, and several penitents appeared at the altar for prayer. At the Methodist Church South, interesting meetings are in progress under the direction of

Rev. Mr. Granbery, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Dr. Marshall. At the Methodist Protestant Church, the protracted meeting has just begun, under the super-vision of Rev. L. W. Bates, pastor. Last night the meeting was very lively and interesting, and several penitents were at the altar.

THE GRAND FIREMEN'S EXCURSION TO-MORROW. The Franklin Fire Company give a grand excursion to Mount Vernon and Glymont to-morrow, in honor of their guests, the America Fire Com-pany of Philadelphia. Participated in, as this excursion will be, by all the fire companies in the city in uniform, and with bands of music, and by many other citizens, it will no doubt be one of the grandest and most imposing affairs of the kind of the season.

ROWDYISM ON CAPITOL HILL .- A correspondent writes to us that on Friday evening, while pass ing the intersection of B street and New Jersey avenue, he was assailed by a gang of rowdies assembled there with the most abusive and obscene language. He expresses the hope that the good citizens of Capitol Hill, with the cooperation of the police, will help this growing evil.

VISITING Sons OF MALTA -The Philadelphia Journal announces that a special delegation of ten, appointed under invitation by the S C. Council of Eastern Pennsylvania, will leave that city on Wednesday (to-morrow,) for Washington, to be present at the grand Tournament at Arlington Springs.
